ScrumptiousSucculent EnergizingSatisfying

A lot of people worked long and hard to make Nutrition Month (March) the success that it was. The reviews have been as excellent as the food, according to Assistant Director for Food and Nutrition Services Mary Keysor and, as final feedback on the month, she'd like to place the credit where it's due.

Dietitian Mary Buteyn and Dietetic Technician Liz Bagonzi co-chaired the entire program. They started with brainstorming sessions a full three months in advance, and evolved a three-part approach to observing the month: create an attention-getting display; plan appealing menus for the cafeteria; find a way to make nutrition information available to the MMC family without force-feeding.

Meeting with Audio/Visual's Writer/Designer Ella Hudson, Buteyn and Bagonzi described their desire for a display that would be catchy but not at all preachy, one that would speak to the pure pleasure of good food. Hudson and A/V's Production Manager Doug MacKenzie, Graphic Designer Chris Saucier, and Medical Photographers Leigh Whittemore and Larry Gorton designed, photo-

THIS IS NATIONAL VOLUNTEER WEEK, and to mark the occasion, MMC has placed candy and cards of thanks at the more than 40 hospital locations where our volunteers work. The cards remind us that "volunteers make life sweeter," and our 553 volunteers do just that with their valuable presence more than 52,000 hours a year. Sampling the sweets are Radiation Therapy Receptionist Ellen Pitt and Volunteer Win Rice. (A/V Photo)

Photo Contest is back with changes

The MMC Employee Photo Contest has returned with Spring, and it's "new and improved" for 1985. Changes have been made in the types of photos that may be entered, the categories have been shifted and streamlined, and the rewards for winning are greater.

First, the rewards. Several departments and organizations at MMC have "adopted" categories and provided prizes for the first, second, and third place winners. They are the Medical Services Federal Credit Union, the Public Information Department, HealthStyles, and the Employee Activity Committee.

1985 Photo Contest rules announced

- All part-time and full-time employees are eligible, as well as all volunteers, students, and members of the medical staff.
- There will be five categories: 1) Scenic, 2) People, 3) Open, 4) HealthStyles (anything healthy, active, etc.), and 5) Snapshot. Black & White and Color photographs will be mixed in each category.
- Entries shall be in the form of prints (no slides). Except for the Snapshot category, all photographs must be enlargements (5" x 7" or larger).
- Prints must be unframed, preferably unmounted.
- Each entrant may enter as many photos in as many categories as desired.
- The following information must be fastened (no paper clips!) to the back of each print on a separate piece of paper: entrant's name, title of print (if any), department, telephone number, and category entered. No name or other information is to be visible on the front of the print. Any entry with incomplete or incorrect information will be disqualified.
- Prints must be submitted to the Public Information Office (MGH-1) between 8:30 AM and 4:30 PM, Monday-Friday, or to the Security Office during other hours. Deadline for submission of entries is June 7, 1985.
- Entries must be submitted in person, and entrants must have a MMC Photo ID.
- There is no entry fee.
- Entries will be judged by a panel of judges from the Greater Portland area. The judges' decisions are final.
- First, second and third places will be awarded in each category. The judges may award special citations if they desire, or refuse to award a place if they feel no entry is qualified.

- Winners will be announced June 19, 1985.
- All possible care will be exercised in handling entries, and the prints will be returned after the contest (winners will be placed on display for a time). However, the sponsor cannot be held liable for damage or loss.

Contest. Eligible for this category, appropriately called "HealthStyles," are any photographs showing people engaged in healthy leisure activities, sports, athletic training, or similar activities.

Black & White has been eliminated as a category this year, because of a small number of entries in past years. Black & White photos are still eligible, of course, in all the other categories. The Color Open category has been redesignated "Open," to become a wide open category. There is also no Animal category this year, but animal photos may be entered in the Open category.

All photos except those entered in Snapshot must be enlargements, 5" x 7" or larger. This change stems from judges' observation in the past that many photos were competing against enlargements in the other categories, and that enlargements were impinging on the Snapshots.

Organ Donor Week brings awareness

The more than 100,000 Americans waiting for organ and tissue transplants to save or improve their lives have only one hope: people willing to become organ donors in the event of their deaths. April 21-27 is National Organ Donor Awareness Week, an attempt to focus attention on the critical need for organs and tissues.

Maine Medical Center's Renal Transplant Program is one of hundreds of programs and organizations nationwide participating in Organ Donor Awareness Week. A new brochure on organ donation, produced by the MMC program and the Kidney Foundation of Maine, will be distributed with the MMC payroll during the week. Renal Transplant Program Director Donald A. Leeber, M.D., asks all MMC employees to consider becoming organ donors and to discuss donation with their families.

Further information is available from the Transplant Program, x2417, or from the Kidney Foundation of Maine, 772-7270.

Some facts about organ and tissue transplants:

- about 7,000 Americans are now waiting for kidneys, 25 for hearts, 130 for livers.
- more than 20,000 corneas are transplanted each year in the United States, and in 95% of the cases vision is improved after transplantation.
- Virtually all of America's blood supply is provided by voluntary donations.
- about 100,000 skin graft procedures are done each year in the U.S. Another half million patients could benefit if enough skin were available.

graphed, and produced the display. (In this case, production included shopping for the perfect veggies and other good stuff shown in the display, and photography meant fighting the effects of time and hot studio lights on such fragile subjects as fresh strawberries and pats of butter.) The remarkable result is the display that has pleased so many passers-by in the Richards corridor. The striking color photographs, by the way, are destined to become a permanent part of the decor when the Food Services/Cafeteria area renovations are complete.

A minimum of preaching and a maximum of pleasing was also their goal as Mary Buteyn and Liz Bagonzi worked with the Food Services crew to plan the nutritious features offered in the Cafeteria during March. Production Manager John Romano, Assistant Production Manager Verle Hutchison and Dietetic Technician Leanne Dansreau helped to put it all together and the Cafeteria staff served it up in style. All this, Mary Keysor points out, went on with the Food Services area in the midst of renovation.

The bottom line proves the effort was worth it: vegetarian entrees sold as well if not better than any other entrees; high-fibre offerings sold well; in short, nutrition business was good.

The third feature of Nutrition Month never happened in March. The one day employees were to be offered individual computer analyses of their personal nutrition habits produced a snowstorm instead; the computer and the people operating it couldn't get to MMC from the University of Maine in Orono. Employee interest remained high, however, and when the program was offered one day in April, the computer was busy. Employees fed information on their eating habits into the computer, and the computer operators, students from the U of M's Residential Life Program, took batches of data back to the campus to begin producing individual analyses.
