Photo contest coming back, with changes

The MMC Employee Photo Contest will soon return, and it will be "new and improved" for 1985. Changes have been made in the types of photos that may be entered, the categories have been shifted and streamlined, and the rewards for winning may be greater as well.

More details and full rules will appear soon. Meanwhile, bear in mind the deadline: June 6.

Dr. Nowicki to speak at Friends' meeting

The annual Spring meeting of the Friends of Maine Medical Center is set for Friday, April 26, in the Charles A. Dana Health Education Center. The meeting is open to all who wish to attend.

Featured at the meeting will be a slide show discussion on "Coping With Surgery for Congenital Heart Disease -- A Family Problem." Edward R. Nowicki, M.D., Portland cardiothoracic surgeon and a member of the staff of MMC, will present the program, emphasizing the importance of treating heart disease in the family setting. There will be a question-and-answer session after the program.

The meeting begins with coffee at 9:30 AM; the program will follow at 10 AM.

Nursing workshop looks at ethics

The MMC Department of Nursing is sponsoring a one-day workshop on nursing ethics on May 2. The program, entitled "Ethical Decision-Making for Nurses in the Clinical Setting," will feature a nationally known philosopher and nurse ethicist team. Martin Benjamin, Ph.D., and Joy Curtis, RN, MA, who are on faculty at Michigan State University, have conducted numerous workshops and have been published extensively. They have co-authored a book, Ethics in Nursing.

The workshop will introduce registered nurses to ethical reasoning and its relationship to issues frequently encountered by nurses in their clinical setting.

Registration is open to registered nurses and is free of charge to MMC registered nurse employees. For further information and registration, please call Staff Development, x2397.

Self defense course coming in late Spring

HealthStyles is offering a self defense program later this Spring, to be previewed at two Luncheon programs April 23 and 24. The presentation will be by Bryan LaBrecque, a third-degree black belt in Shuri-Ryn and Shotokan karate. Bryan has eleven years experience in the martial arts, and works in MMC's Offsite Distribution Center.

The Luncheon programs are Tuesday, April 23, 11:30 AM - 12 Noon, Classroom 4, and Wednesday, April 24, 12 Noon - 12:30 PM, Classroom 1. Call Lois at x2824 to enroll.

Credit Union sets Annual Meeting date

The twenty-ninth Annual Meeting of the Medical Services Federal Credit Union is Saturday, May 11, at the Sheraton Inn, South Portland. Social Hour at 6:30 PM will be followed by dinner, business meeting and election of officers, and dancing to Straight Up. Door prizes will be drawn, including the grand prize -- a VCR.

Tickets are $12 to members, $15 to guests. They are available from members of the MSFCU Board of Directors or at the MSFCU office. Deadline for ticket purchase is May 3.

Stress and smoking are program topics

Smokers seriously interested in clearing their air, and "Type A" people interested in lowering their stress levels now have a chance to do it. HealthStyles is offering a five-week Smoking Cessation course, taught by Melvyn Attfield, Ph.D., of MMC's Rehabilitation Medicine Department. The group will meet at MMC Tuesdays, 4:30 - 5:30 PM, April 23 - May 24. The cost is $25, with a 50% rebate for abstinence six weeks after the program.

For the Type A people, HealthStyles offers Stress Management with consultant Victoria Field. It is a six week course, meeting at MMC Tuesdays, 4:30 - 6:00 PM, April 23 - May 28. The cost is $40, with a 50% rebate for successful completion of the program.
